

What do these people have in common?
They attended SJSU and they are now in PhD programs in Mathematics and Statistics!

Graduate School Workshop

a gathering for students who are interested in applying to Ph.D. programs in the Mathematical Sciences

Wednesday, Sept 16, 2009 at 2:00 in MH 426

Refreshments will be served.

This is aimed at students who intent to start graduate school in Fall 2010 or Fall 2011, though the sooner you start planning, the better. We will discuss what needs to happen before, during and after grad school: how to prepare for and get into grad school, what your life will be like in grad school, and what kind of job you can get afterwards. We will also discuss personal aspects of going to grad school: how to pay for it (or how to get someone else to pay for it – Ph.D. programs can be FREE), what a grad school lifestyle is like, relationship and family issues. All Math majors and aspiring mathematicians are welcome. Come with questions, leave with answers.

If you are planning to attend, we would appreciate an email from you.

Contacts: Prof's B. Cayco cayco@math.sjsu.edu, T. Hsu hsu@math.sjsu.edu, and S. Simić simic@math.sjsu.edu